

Growing

the social accountability network

ANSA-Africa stakeholder conference • May 19-20, 2008 • Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

From ANSA-Africa to you

- An opportunity to hear about the recent developments, activities, capacity building initiatives and technical support of the Affiliated Network for Social Accountability in Africa (ANSA-Africa).
- A chance to interact with development partners and donors on their agendas and involvement in social accountability and across the continent.
- Speakers with African and global experience will tell their social accountability experiences.

From you to ANSA-Africa

- Stakeholder involvement and participation is as essential to the success of this conference as it is to ANSA-Africa structures and activities.
- We invite you to share from your experiences, needs and requirements on social accountability issues.
- Sessions will include opportunities to ask questions; to debate social accountability issues, methodologies and experiences; and to help decide where ANSA-Africa should be involved.

Hands-on training

- Seminars on social accountability methodologies will help you develop practical skills.
- Case studies from across the continent will demonstrate how these methodologies can be applied to the African context.

Learn from cutting-edge research on these focus areas:

The status of social accountability in Africa today

Establishing social accountability in fragile and post-conflict states

Social accountability in the context of decentralisation and revenue generation
